

EASTERN PEQUOT ARCHAEOLOGICAL FIELD SCHOOL

SUMMER 2015

Summer 2015 marks the tenth field season of the Eastern Pequot Archaeological Field School in Connecticut. Since its debut in 2003, it has trained more than 100 students. The project continues this summer with its ongoing collaborative study of this Native American community's persistence through centuries of colonialism. Consider joining us for a fulfilling educational and cultural experience.

Community-engaged project with the Eastern Pequot Tribal Nation

Emphasis on 17th- through 19th- century Native American life

COLLABORATING AT THE TROWEL'S EDGE

TEACHING AND LEARNING IN INDIGENOUS ARCHAEOLOGY

EDITED BY STEPHEN W. SILLIMAN

AMERIND STUDIES IN ARCHAEOLOGY

Focus on heritage, ethics, and politics

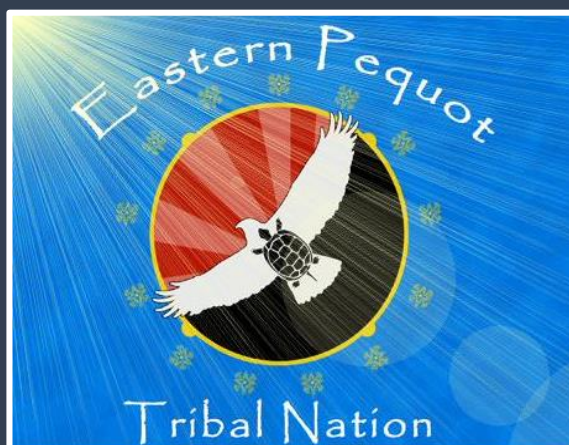

Professional training in archaeological techniques

Critical studies of colonialism and its legacies today

Applications now available!!

June 30 – July 31, 2015
North Stonington, CT
$2,795 undergraduate
$3,265 graduate
Six credits

Course cost covers all tuition/fees, field activities, museum visits, housing, food, and local project transportation

DEADLINE: April 3
Early application recommended.
Spaces are limited.

For more information or an application, please contact:
Professor Stephen Silliman
(stephen.silliman@umb.edu)

Department of Anthropology
M.A. Program in Historical Archaeology
College of Advancing and Professional Studies

www.faculty.umb.edu/stephen_silliman/html/northeast.html